

JUDGES AND TIMERS SEMINAR

MARCH 6th and 7th 2010

400 E. University Way, Ellensburg WA 98926. I recommend taking University and turning right by the Ginko Tree (spelling may be wrong), that is the main parking lot. You can also take D Street up on the other side of campus which may be faster but is harder to find. The SURC is located in the middle of campus; I will put out signs to help people who get lost.

Central Washington University Ellensburg WA.

Judges: 10:00 am–finished on Saturday with a break for lunch on your own.

10:00 am–finished on Sunday

This will be a hands on course with a lot of video scoring and discussion planned. If you are hoping to get into judging at the junior or high school level this class will give you the tools you need to feel confident. It will also be a refresher for Pro–West judges, and a great way to start the rodeo season. We will be looking at the rule book, and trying to make sure all judges interpret the rules according to the way they are written.

Timers: 10:00 am–finished on Saturday. Lynn Cotter and Lola Rickey will present an excellent presentation to brush up your skills as well as get ready if you are brand new to timing.

This will be free to current Pro–West judges and timers who have purchased their 2010 card, but to all other association judges and timers the fee will be $25.00.

Please RSVP with Dean Seagle 509–937–4011 509–590–3289 or with Julie Streeter prowestrodeo@gmail.com so we can get you directions and any other information.
